Subject Fw: Bristol Bay comment update UPDATED!

For those of you who are good at math (and even those of you who are not), you probably noticed that these numbers did not add up...here is the correction from HQ....

The revised the stats here:

BB assessment public comment status: As of the afternoon of 7/19/12, EPA has received a total of 137,730 comment letters on the draft assessment. This includes approximately 2,000 (2,127 exactly) individual letters and 136,000 (135,603 exactly) letters from eleven different mass mailing campaigns. The eight mass mailing campaigns in support of EPA action have generated 132,165 letters. The two campaigns against EPA action have generated 3,120 letters. The remaining mass mailer is requesting a comment period extension.

BB Region 10 team:

Update on public comment and peer review registration

As of today:

213,711 public comments, about 2000 are individual comments, the rest are mass mailers
204 people registered to attend peer review meetings, 65 registered to speak.

Next few weeks....

Rick, Cindi, Lorraine, Phil, Heather, Sheila are part of the larger team who will review and summarize technical comments for the peer review panel. These reviews will be taking place the next few weeks. ORD will be assigning comments to reviewers.

Rick, Dennis, Phil, Cindi, Tami, Heather(?), Hanady and Cara will be attending the peer review meetings. I have reserved rooms and sent invitations to the Seattle folks to listen in via webcast/webinar.
